Anti-Litter PSAs

Forget boring anti-litter PSAs! Deliver a message that holds viewers' attention while humorously persuading everyone to "put trash in its place"! These effective and professionally-produced 30 second environmental PSAs are customizable and then quickly available for download. Price includes customizing the end graphic, adding a logo watermark at the bottom corner throughout and uploading the ads for distribution. See all three at: <https://www.cresbicate.com/videos>.

The Sports Fan

Too lazy to put his trash in the right place, a sports fan at a county fair casually tries to dispose of his container. After he narrowly avoids making a friend for life of the Trash Monster he decides to do the right thing and put trash in the garbage can.

The Fisherman

Much to his kids' discomfort, a dad uses the lake as his waste receptacle. Then much to his kids' amusement, the Trash Monster reminds the dad that unless you dispose of it properly, that trash stays with you and will be there the next time you come to fish!

The Boyfriend

The guy seemed like such a hot catch until she saw what a slob he was. Her peer pressure (and the thought of life with the Trash Monster) helped him put the trash where it belonged.

The Trash Monster

“

We get tremendous positive feedback with these PSAs featuring the Trash Monster! We show them at schools, on our website, during local TV network and cable shows - even in our jail. It's great having something so well-crafted that makes people think twice about littering!
